

Veterans in Parenting

We have handled the challenges of the early years and the school years. The educational services our sons and daughters were entitled to are in the past. We have met great and not-so-great people, experienced success and frustration, joy and heartache and fought battles.

Now as our sons and daughters move from their teenage years into adulthood, the future can look uncertain. Have any of these questions ever crossed your mind?

- Where will he/she work? Is it a paid job or volunteer work?
- What about friends? How do they keep connections alive?
- What about money? Benefits?
- Will he/she ever leave home? Is this a dream or could it happen?

PLEASE COME AND SHARE WITH/LEARN FROM OTHER VETERAN PARENTS AS WE FIGURE OUT OUR NEXT STEPS.
