New President, Dottie Bischoff, accepted the gavel from outgoing president Loretta DiLoreto. The club is involved in many community projects, namely scholarships, volunteer readers for Joppatowne Elementary School, send military men and women goodie boxes, aid Anna's House with grocery cards and linens, organize breakfast with Santa at the local library branch and much more.

These members of the Joppatowne Golden Age Club and attend meetings every week and play Bingo. Ages 90 to 93, they are enjoying their golden years. Pictured, from left, Betty Ihnat, Maryanna Jasinski, Frances Beck, Dorothy Tourgeau and Mildred Federico. Not pictured is member, Elizabeth Manke. For information of the club, call 410-563-7614.

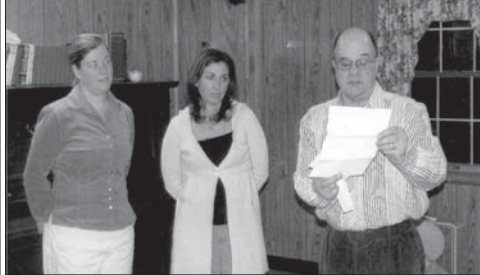

As local business owners of Rapid Refill and Beyond Fit, Glenn and Donna Gustafsson made holiday dreams come true this season for a number of people who receive support from The Arc Northern Chesapeake Region. A new state-of-the-art laptop computer that can be navigated through voice activation was donated and their son, Eric, will provide technical assistance so that the new computer and software can be fully utilized. Also, members of their fitness club adopted individuals and families through a holiday giving tree campaign held at The Arc.

Taylor L. Flanery, 15, is a sophomore at C. Milton Wright High School. She has been dancing since she was two and a half years old. Taylor began dancing at Harford Dance at Bel Air Athletic Club and transferred to Upper Falls Dance Academy in 2004 under the instruction of Judy Daniels. Taylor is studying ballet, modern, jazz and character forms of dancing. After the auditions for the "Great Russian Nutcracker" in Cokesville, she was selected to dance with the Moscow Ballet at the Lyric Opera House. She has also danced in programs at the Harford Community College.

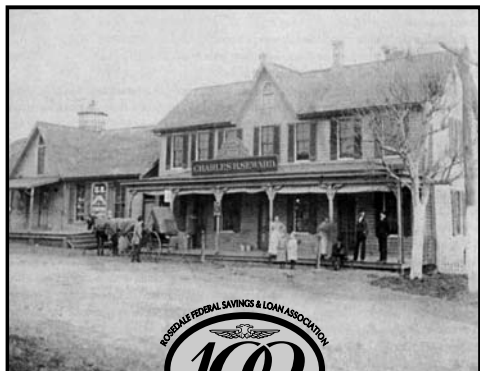

Betty Cheney, from the Potomac District National Ruritan Headquarters, installs the Churchville Ruritan Club 2009 officers. The officers from right to left are Joe Altmann (3 year Director), Ed Thompson (2 year Director), Rob McCormack (Treasurer), Gene Hilkemeyer (Secretary), Jim Smith (Vice-President) and Bill Nickel (President). Don Blackburn (1 year Director) is not pictured.

Pete Brozic, president of the Churchville Ruritan Club, presented a check to the Churchville Elementary School PTA Vice President, Beth Rupert, and assistant principal, Tara Dedeaux.
