

Kevin Drumheller
COO
The Arc Northern
Chesapeake Region

Kevin Drumheller is the Chief Operating Officer at The Arc Northern Chesapeake Region (The Arc NCR) in Aberdeen, Maryland. He has worked at The Arc NCR for the past 4 years, overseeing the organizations major programs and services; including, Community Living, Supported Employment, Family Support Services, Personal Supports, Treatment Foster Care, Quality Enhancement and Psych Services and Operations. Drumheller has more than 25 years of experience working in the nonprofit human services field.

As COO, his accomplishments include building and maintaining multiple business partnerships supporting The Arc NCR's programs. He created a Business Task Force, paving the way for new employment and training opportunities for individuals with differing abilities. In addition, Drumheller has established partnerships allowing the organization to go through intensive trauma training, especially designed for adults and children with differing abilities.

Drumheller received a Master's Degree in Social Work at the University of Maryland, a Master's Degree in Education at Goucher College, and a Bachelor of Arts from Towson University. He previously served as the Public Policy chair for the Maryland Association of Resources for Families and Youth, is a current member of the Maryland Department of Human Resources (DHS) Provider Advisory Council, and currently sits on the Board of the Harford Leadership Academy.
